Countercultural Themes in Christianity

Pastor recently purchased 5 copies of UnAmerican Activities: Countercultural Themes in Christianity, by Tom Wilkens and his daughter, Kim.

Mark Allen Powell, a former student of Tom's, says of the book: "Reading this book is like sifting through a box of souvenirs: stories, letters, papers, and sermons laced with personal vulnerability, theological depth, and a profound sense of social responsibility. It is a book that "goes the distance" traversing hemispheres, cultures, and generations."

Copies of the book may be purchased directly from Amazon.com

We'll plan to meet once a month to discuss chapters of the book over lunch at "Rivahsyde" starting in late September.

The study of the Book of Revelations continues on Tuesday Mornings at 10:00 AM starting September 9th through October. (Note there will be not class on October 13th. Paul St. Clair will lead the study starting with an overview of last January's study and continuing into the readings in depth. It is planned that there will be a break in November and December and resume the study series in January.
